ABOUT THE COURSE

The European School of Embalming Skills organises facial restoration workshops at the anatomy laboratory of the Faculty of Medicine of St Etienne (France). The philosophy of this course is "open casket", that is to say, we wish to push the boundaries of the practitioner to further enable their skills to develop in providing a dignified and sincere way of reconstructing their cases- this will enable their results to be warmly received by the families of the deceased. Therefore, our goal is to provide a structured course of integral methods that will enable the practitioner to deal with all manner of facial reconstruction.

There are two levels involved in this course, level 1 where you will learn the below methods of reconstruction both theory and practical.

Level 1

- Introduction to restorative art.
- Specific techniques of reconstructive embalming.
 - Theory of restorative art.
 - Sutures, using wax.
 - Reduced oedema – Black eye.
 - Fracture of the jaw.
 - Stop purge (surgical method).
- Reconstruction of a skull after trauma.
 - Emaciated deceased.
- Cosmetics post-mortem Airbrush.
 - Arterial research: Practical.

Level 2

This can only be studied upon completion of level one. Level 2 is mainly focused upon trauma of the face. We also endeavour to teach the latest techniques and the use of alternative materials to achieve the most practical and sincere reconstruction for the deceased and their families.
